"Strengthening Europe's Security Pillars" - Two Speeches in the German Bundestag by Adis Ahmetovic, MdB

The member of the Bundestag and member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, Adis Ahmetovic, will give two speeches in the German Bundestag (tomorrow) Friday.

At approximately 11:40 a.m., the Bundestag will pass a resolution in a roll call vote on the German government's motion on the "Continuation of the participation of armed German forces in the international security presence in Kosovo (KFOR)." In his speech, Adis Ahmetovic will address the need to extend the KFOR mandate as an anchor of stability in the region.

Starting at approximately 1:10 p.m., parliamentarians will vote on the German government's motion on "Resuming the participation of armed German forces in the EU-led security operation in Bosnia and Herzegovina (EUFOR ALTHEA)" and the motion by the SPD, Greens and FDP on "Supporting Bosnia and Herzegovina as it embarks on a better future." The joint motion of the government coalition was initiated by SPD Members of Parliament Adis Ahmetovic and Dietmar Nietan together with Boris Mijatović (Greens) and Thomas Hacker (FDP). Ahmetovic will also take to the podium tomorrow to speak on these motions.

The speeches can be followed in the livestream at:
